Promo:

Raderkraft is a solo project by Willem Stinissen based in Amsterdam The Netherlands.

With his 80's analog sound full with powerfull (bass)synth lines and knocking beats floating somewhere in between electro, new beat and wave he impresses many live on stage, don't miss it!

Review Igloo Magazine:

"Stinissen mentions his love of pre-MIDI sounds and Raderkraft certainly has an uncluttered style. The coldness of electro is ever present, but there is also a freewheeling quality to his music. With respectful nods to past fixed forms, this stripped down outing has that individual streak that makes it stand out from the angular crowd"
